Maturity Distribution^{3,5}

¹ As a measure of current income, 7-day yield more closely reflects the fund's current income-generating ability than the total return.

² The yields quoted reflect the current absorption of certain fund expenses by BNY Mellon Investment Adviser, Inc., without which yields would be "restated" as shown above.

³ Portfolio composition is subject to change at any time.

⁴ Please see the prospectus for expenses as of the fund's most recent fiscal year-end. Operating expenses may vary from month to month.

⁵ Maturity distribution reflects the final maturity date except for floating rate securities for which the next reset date is reflected.

⁷ WAL is a measure of the average final maturity of all of the underlying money market instruments in the fund, weighted to reflect the relative percentage ownership of each instrument. Unlike WAM, WAL calculations do not allow maturities to be shortened for periodic interest rate resets. Accordingly, WAL will generally be higher than WAM.

⁸ Monthly yield history is the annualized distribution rate that is based upon dividends per share from net investment income paid during the period, divided by the period ended maximum offering price per share, adjusted for capital gains (IF ANY) distributed during the period, and annualized based upon the number of days in the distribution period.

The fund seeks to invest in securities that present minimal credit risk, based on BNY Mellon Investment Adviser's assessment of the issuer's or guarantor's credit quality and capacity to meet its financial obligations, which may include environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors as appropriate and applicable, among other factors. The fund is a government money market fund managed to meet the requirements of Rule 2A-7 under the Investment Company Act of 1940.

ESG evaluation risk. Where appropriate and as applicable, Dreyfus incorporates environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors into its fundamental credit research process. Dreyfus may not consider ESG ratings or other ESG data or analysis in connection with every investment decision and may determine that other attributes of an investment outweigh ESG considerations when making an investment decision. ESG factors may not be determinative with respect to a given credit analysis or investment decision. Accordingly, a fund may invest in securities of a company/issuer with a negative ESG profile, and a fund may divest or not invest in a company/issuer with a positive ESG profile. In light of the fact that ESG data often lacks standardization, consistency and transparency, such data including ESG ratings for certain issuers/companies may not be available, complete or accurate. As a result, the fund's investments may differ from, and potentially underperform funds that incorporate ESG data from other sources or utilize other methodologies.
